

Northfield Dog Training presents
Heeling Camp with Adele Yunck

September 2-3, 2017 • 9:00-5:00 each day
3676 W. Ellsworth Rd. • Ann Arbor, Michigan

This seminar is all about heeling for the competition obedience ring. We work on all the components that make up a heeling pattern, from teaching the pieces, to putting them together, to polishing for the ring. Dogs should be either trained by an experienced trainer (someone who has titled a previous dog in obedience) or have attended at least a couple of competition-related obedience classes. We will also work on improving your handling to help you be the best handler you can be for your dog.

Adele has been teaching competition obedience since the late 1980's, both at home in Ann Arbor and at popular weekend seminars around the US and Canada. She has titled 9 dogs to at least the UD level, 4 terriers and 5 Flat-Coated Retrievers, with 5 of them earning the OTCh. title. Her current dogs are Flat-Coated Retriever Sonic, Border Terrier Jag, and youngster Flat-Coated Retriever Tigger, Sonic's son.

Adele will teach the camp in her training building. There is room for 3 rings and loads of crating space. There is a large fenced yard in which you are welcome to give your dog a run.

Cost for the seminar (including lunch and snacks):

Working spot (18 available): $200 – you may work up to 2 dogs during the seminar, though just one per exercise.

Auditors (unlimited): $100 for weekend, $60 for one day.

Please fill out and return with payment (check made out to NDT).

* Name: _____

Address: _____

* Phone #: _____

* E-mail address: _____

Dog's name: _____ Breed: _____

_____ Dog's title(s): _____

Handler's Highest obedience title _____

I want to come to the Heeling Camp as a working team

I want to come to the Heeling Camp as an auditor (circle one) both days • Saturday • Sunday

Mail to: Northfield Dog Training • 3676 W. Ellsworth Rd. • Ann Arbor, MI 48103

Questions? Email Adele @ northfield.dt@gmail.com